Asian Post Rockers MINOH Announce Dystopia New Single 'The Witness'

Made up of vocalist/guitarist Jamin Oh and percussionist Frank Strozyk, MINOH is a German based duo who are pushing the boundaries of post rock. Their debut single addresses the increasingly dystopian state of the world. Accompanied by an anime inspired video, it is as thought provoking as it is chilling.

With her background in classical guitar, Jamin Oh squeezes every drop of emotion out of her instrument, resulting in an aggressive and complex atmosphere. Her voice is just as powerful, telling a cautionary tale of a lack of humanity and over reliance on technology. As 'The Witness' reaches its tragic conclusion, MINOH forces listeners to stop and think about what is truly important in life.

'The Witness' is available everywhere 10/04/2020
